

How to allow cookies and pop-ups for the FoolProof site.

Note to Mac users: FoolProof may not display properly if you use the Netscape browser.

Cookies:

Cookies are files that are stored on your computer by some websites.

The FoolProof websites uses session cookies to allow you to register a username and password, to allow you to sign in to our website, to keep track of your kids answers and questions, and to view test results at any time. (The session cookie is deleted when your browser is closed.)

If you have cookies blocked in your browser, please change your browser preferences to allow cookies from the FoolProof website. You will then have full access to FoolProof.
